

PRESS RELEASE

Wiener Privatklinik recognized as one of the World's Best Hospitals for the sixth consecutive year

- The World's Best Hospitals 2026 ranking is based on insights from over 85,000 medical experts, patient satisfaction, and highest quality standards.
- This award reaffirms WPK's position as a leading international medical center with over 300 globally recognized specialists.

Wiener Privatklinik, one of Austria's largest private hospitals, has been recognized for the sixth consecutive year in the annual World's Best Hospitals ranking, published by Newsweek and Statista. The 2026 edition features 2,445 hospitals from 30 countries, making it the most extensive and international ranking to date.

The ranking is based on a comprehensive study encompassing three main pillars: hospital recommendations from over 85,000 doctors, clinic managers, and medical professionals, gathered through an international survey, patient satisfaction data, assessing their experience and quality of care received, as well as hospitals' quality metrics, reflecting their overall medical standards.

"We are immensely proud and honored to receive the World's Best Hospitals certification for the sixth consecutive year. This recognition is a testament to Wiener Privatklinik's unwavering commitment to medical excellence, patient-centered care, and innovation. It reflects not only our outstanding national and international reputation but also the trust our patients place in us and the exceptional quality standards we uphold", said Thomas Peter Ebm, Managing Director, Wiener Privatklinik.

Wiener Privatklinik is a leading international hospital offering world-class medical services across more than 30 specialties, featuring 10 competence centers and over 300 internationally renowned experts, including physicians ranked among the Top 2% of the world's most cited scientists by Stanford University.

WPK registers over 12,000 admissions annually, with 45% of patients coming from more than 20 countries, mostly Central and Eastern Europe. Romania ranks as the top source country, accounting for 26% of WPK's international patients. Last year, the hospital welcomed over 1,000 Romanian patients. The most in demand medical services were oncological treatments, complex surgical procedures, second-opinion consultations, and personalized check-up packages.

Wiener Privatklinik operates two representative offices in Romania, located in Bucharest and Timișoara. Additionally, patients can access online consultations via the WPK Online Healthcare Center, which connects them to experts in over 20 medical specialties.
